Oracle E-Business Suite Implementations and Upgrades

RJT has completed over 50 Oracle E-Business Suite projects ranging from full implementations and upgrades, to adding new Oracle applications to existing systems. Our subject matter expertise includes the full suite of Oracle products. Our implementation methodology is intentionally transparent so you have complete control every step of the way, from proposal through the entire project lifecycle.

Third-Party Software Integration

Most of our projects required integration with third-party systems, including warehouse management systems, EDI systems, business intelligence systems, etc. Third-party software integration is an integral part of our consulting methodology.

Post Implementation Support and Maintenance

We provide short-term post Go-Live support and maintenance to all of our customers. Most of our customers use our consultants for some type of extended support. Whether it is training, additional reports, or performance optimization our consultants will be there to make sure your Oracle E-Business Suite meets your needs.

Custom “Bolt-on” Development

We are practical when comes to meeting our customers' needs, so we know that sometimes commercial off the shelf software must be augmented to deliver the right solution. Custom solution development is an integral part of our methodology that can be employed when needed.

Staff Augmentation

We have a large team of talented consultants with deep Oracle E-Business Suite functional and technical experience. Most of our clients retain our consultants for several weeks and months to augment their internal staff. RJT values our client relationships and as a result we maintain many multi-year engagements of providing superior consulting services.

At RJT, we recognize customer satisfaction as the critical asset that sets RJT apart as an industry leader. Whether it's one resource to supplement your team or an entire project team implementing new functionality, RJT clients are supported with the entire firm at their availability, even after the project is completed.
